

FOR PARKER

The Drift of Sentiment in St. Louis

The Advance Guard of the State Delegations Already Arriving

Predictions Being Made That the New York Jurist Will be Nominated on Second Ballot—John R. McLean Favors Cleveland—Talk of a Dark Horse Ticket.

St. Louis, July 1.—Delegates are arriving slowly.

A development of particular interest is the seeming collapse of the organized endeavor for Hearst. Delegates who have come in from the Pacific slope say freely that there is no serious intention among those delegations to support Hearst. A number of southern Illinois leaders make a similar statement. On the other hand, Hearst has shown an unexpected strength in Missouri. A few of the delegates elected at Joplin Wednesday declare their preference for Hearst if Senator Cockrell is withdrawn. Since the delegation is under the unit rule, however, it is not likely that any part of Missouri's vote will be cast for him. Hearst men themselves admit that it will take somebody else to beat Parker.

Mayor Rose of Milwaukee, is being brought forward for the Vice Presidency. Conditions in Wisconsin are supposed to point favorably to him.

A personal representative of Judge Parker states that Congressman John Sharp Williams will be the Parker spokesman in all matters affecting the platform, that Mr. Williams has been in conference with Judge Parker, and that the two men are in perfect accord on platform utterances. Congressman Williams's interview a few days ago represents his view of the main issue between the parties.

The entire Presidential situation continues to depend upon whether the Southern and Eastern delegates can be convinced that Judge Parker is the strongest man in New York and other close states. If that belief is established by the time the convention opens there will be but a few ballots. He will be quickly nominated.

A significant hint is given by John P. Hopkins, leader of the Illinois delegation, that he personally favors Parker, though he will vote for Hearst on one ballot or perhaps more. For practical convention purposes there seems to be an understanding between Hopkins and the Parker managers.

"Judge Parker will be nominated for President on the second ballot sure, and possibly on the first, and it is not unreasonable to state that he may be nominated by acclamation."

This is the statement made by N. O. Fanning, of Brooklyn, the first authorized representative of the Parker movement to arrive in St. Louis. With Maurice M. Minton, another Parker enthusiast, he occupied apartments at the Planters Hotel.

Mr. Fanning has visited every state in the Union since the 1st of January as the personal representative of Judge Parker. This is the way he figures the result of his campaign:

"Through carefully compiled figures there will be 815 delegates who are classed as 'conservatives.' By this I don't mean ultra conservative men, but include in the classification all those delegates who will favor the adoption of a platform which will carry the states of New York, New Jersey, Indiana and Connecticut.

"The radicals will control not more than 135 delegates. Of the conservatives, there are now instructed and pledged to Judge Parker 437. For Wall are 26 from Wisconsin, and Oliver has 36 from Massachusetts. These I am certain will be for Parker, as soon as their duty to their respective 'favorite sons' is performed. Cockrell

CASHIER TELLS OF SHORTAGE

Defaulter Physical Wreck from Worry

For Three Years He Has Been Trying to Hide the Hole in an Illinois Bank's Funds.

Aurora, Ill., July 1.—Several hundred people besieged the doors of the German American bank, the cashier of which, Colonel J. H. Plain, by his own confession, is short $90,000 in his accounts. For an hour there was no diminution of the crowd. Most of those clamoring for their money were women. Some carried babies in their arms as they lined up for their turn at the paying teller's window. Huge stacks of gold, silver and currency were piled on the counters. A number of prominent citizens entered the bank during the rush and made large deposits, but even this action failed to reassure the frightened women.

The bank officials declared the institution prepared for the run. Most of the withdrawals were said to be by small depositors. In three hours there was no one in front of the paying teller's window and the run apparently was over. The directors said that $82,741 had been withdrawn.

The defaulter is a physical wreck. For three years he had borne the ceaseless strain of trying to hide the hole in the bank's reserve fund, while the hole had been growing deeper and broader. Discovery finally came and confronted with the charge of taking the bank's funds the cashier confessed to a shortage of $40,000. Further examinations raised this amount to over $55,000, and after the officials had unearthed all the worthless items, Cashier Plain himself pointed out $22,000 worth of bonds which he said he had sold an investor and carried on the books as the property of the bank. While the bank had been cutting the coupons and crediting them to its own profit account every six months, Cashier Plain said he had been paying the amount of the coupons twice a year to the real owner. Plain's thefts are stated by officials to amount to $77,109. He also shouldered $2,900 of bad accounts, bringing the bank's losses to $90,000.

In his confession of the shortage, Colonel Plain attributed his downfall to "unfortunate speculation." Ambition to become a "landed proprietor" in Colorado was the aim of these speculations. "Everything went wrong," he said.

Plain, who is 46 years old, declared he never gambled at cards or bet on horse races. His troubles began, he said, seven years ago, when his wife died. The first money he took was to pay for land at Sterling, Colo. Three years ago his speculations began. He lost $10,000 in a corn deal. This was followed by a loss of $13,000 in the Northern Pacific corner. Speculation in United States Steel stock, he said, was his final undoing. "Steel looked like a good thing," he said. "I bought it at 46. It went down to 11. I guess I lost $39,000 there."

CONVERTED

To the "Spirit Fruit" Faith Was His Wife, Says Bang, Who Obtains a Divorce.

Cleveland, O., July 1.—A story of a wife won to the "Spirit Fruit" faith of Belthart, the Lisbon "prophet," was told by Andrew C. Bang in the divorce court.

Judge Kennedy granted Bang a divorce.

In his petition Bang says that a year ago his wife left for a visit at her old home in Denmark. He adds that the wife did not come back to Cleveland. On the steamer returning, he says, she formed the acquaintance of the steward, a follower of Belthart, and that he converted her to the "Spirit Fruit" belief, persuaded her to leave her husband and go with him to live in Chicago.

The divorce was granted on the grounds of gross neglect of duty.

It would require the work of 25,000,000 teams to do the work now done by the railroads.

LYNCHING

Will Result If This Crowd Succeeds in Its Purpose.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 1.—Two hundred men up to 5 o'clock this morning were on the trail of the tramp who shot and killed Mrs. J. W. Six, at Wileyville, W. Va., Thursday when she refused to prepare a warm breakfast for him. The tramp is certain to be lynched if caught.

Because Mrs. Six refused to cook him a breakfast, an unknown tramp blew off the top of her head with a shotgun.

The man appeared at the Six home-stand just after the farm hands had finished breakfast, and asked for something to eat. He was offered cold meat, bread and butter, but refused that, and in threatening terms insisted that she prepare a hot meal. He became impudent, and she ordered him from the premises.

Knowing that she was at his mercy, he pushed by her, seized a shotgun and shot her head almost from her shoulders.

CHURCH

Struck by Lightning and Janitor Jacob Crites Was Killed.

Kokomo, Ind., July 1.—The Christian church at Kappas, eight miles east of here, was struck by lightning and destroyed last night. Jacob Crites, the janitor, was killed and his wife and three children were perhaps fatally stricken. Crites was blacking a stove when lightning came down the chimney.

THEFT

Of Wife, Children, Stock and Rover, the Family Dog, Charged Against Jones, Held in Arkansas.

Owingsville, Ky., July 1.—Detective Lewis Johnson, of Lexington, has gone to Ozark, Ark., to bring to Kentucky A. C. Jones, wanted in Carlisle, near here. Although horse stealing is the charge against him, he is also accused by Lem Anderson, of Carlisle, of stealing Anderson's wife, children, live stock and, in fact, everything, even including an old dog that served the family faithfully for 15 years.

In addition to his role as an officer, Detective Johnson went to Ozark for Anderson to persuade his wife and children to come home.

Requisition papers for the return of Jones were issued by Governor Beckham Tuesday, and no trouble is expected in having them honored by the governor of Arkansas.

Anderson's troubles commenced in May, when he went to the mountains on business. He owns two farms, one near Carlisle, and one near Mt. Sterling. When he returned to Nicholas county he expected to be received with open arms by his wife and children, but everything, except the land and house, had disappeared. Anderson wanted to charge Jones with wife-stealing, but as he could find no laws to cover that offense he contented himself with the charge of horse stealing.

PROHIBITIONISTS

Name Pennsylvania Man for President After General Miles Refused to Accept.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 1.—The Prohibition party in national convention nominated Elias C. Swallow, of Pennsylvania, for president, and George W. Carroll, of Texas, for vice president.

General Miles put an end to the movement to nominate him for president by sending to John G. Woolley a telegram from New York asking that his name be not presented. This was considered final and the movement to Mr. Swallow was unanimous, no other name being considered. Mr. Swallow's acceptance is contingent on his wife's health.

One passenger is killed for every 2,000,000 carried.

ODD WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Two Husbands Present, the First and Third

Woman Who Has Had a Matrimonial Record Is Now Only 27 Years of Age.

Louisville, Ky., July 1.—When Mrs. Iza Wesley, who is only 27, celebrated the twelfth anniversary of the first of her three marriages, near Jeffersonville, Ind., yesterday, there were two husbands present, the first and the third. Divorce from the first and the death of the second husband did not interfere with the proper observance of the anniversary. When 15 years old, as Miss Iza Tatum, she became the bride of Sterling Norman. Because she would not go to Cincinnati to live, he left her and on returning was surprised to find she had secured a divorce. A son was born. Later Mrs. Norman married Robert Stewart, who died in Cuba and then married John Wesley her present husband.

Norman came to their home several days ago to visit his son. He was cordially received and when the anniversary of his wedding to Mrs. Wesley rolled around, it was celebrated.

President to Move.

Washington, July 1.—All is in readiness at the White House for the departure of President Roosevelt and his immediate office force for Oyster Bay, which will take place tomorrow. The President will be accompanied by Secretary Loef, Assistant Secretary Barnes, two stenographers, two messenger boys and secret service guards.

The President will remain at Oyster Bay until July 28, the day after the committee of notification calls to officially inform him that he is the standard-bearer of his party.

AUTOISTS

Have a Right to Use the Highways and Farmers Must Not Shy Stones at Them.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 1.—Automobilists have a right to use the country roads and it is not the proper thing for farmers to stone them. This is the decision handed down by Judge Whallon.

Recently Benjamin and Harry Raphael and Andrew Trieb were driving a machine in the outskirts of the city when they met Ben and Samuel Askren, who were breaking a colt which was hitched to a cart. The colt became frightened at the machine, and this aroused the ire of the farmers. The machine was stopped some distance from the colt, but the wrath of the Askren brothers could not be appeased and the argument of the autoists that they were entitled to run on the road was met by the statement from the farmers that machines which frightened animals were not proper things to be running around over the country and they had decided to take the matter into their own hands and compel the autoists to remain in the city.

A regular pitched battle ensued, and the farmers, gathering stones from the road side, bombarded the city men in a lively manner. Mr. Trieb's nose was broken and the Raphael brothers badly bruised. The party returned to the city and had the farmers arrested. In police court yesterday the Askren brothers were held to the grand jury on the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

Col. Brigham's Death.

Wauseon, O., July 1.—Col. Joseph H. Brigham, assistant secretary of agriculture, who died at his farm home near Delta, O., at 11 o'clock on Wednesday night, arrived in Delta from Washington, D. C., a few hours before his death. He felt so well that he told his son, Roy, that he was feeling better than he had been for several months. In the night he had a coughing spell and died before the doctor could be summoned.

BATTLE RAGING

Between Japs and Russians At Kai Chow Today.

Great Army of Mikado is Almost in Touch With Kuropatkin.

Japanese Force in Manchuria Numbers 180,000 Exclusive of Division Not Yet Landed—Decisive Battle Would be Disastrous to Russia—Slavs Take Offensive.

St. Petersburg, July 1.—The newspaper Russ has a telegram today from Hay Cheng reporting a battle raging at Kai Chow.

Colonel Novitzki, member of the general staff, in an interview today, expresses the belief that a decisive battle at present would prove disastrous, as a strategic combination of the Russian forces could not be effected. Delay, he says, is the only alternative for the Russians. The Czar's force should retire to the north till the rainy season is over.

Rome, July 1.—(Bulletin.)—The Japanese legation here has news today that the Japanese army is now almost in touch with General Kuropatkin's communications. The Russian position at Liao Yang is said to be becoming untenable.

JAP FORCE 180,000.

Chifu, July 1.—It is learned from an authoritative source that the Japanese now have 130,000 troops in the field in Manchuria. This is exclusive of the fourth army division, which has not yet been landed.

HEAVY FIGHTING.

Mukden, July 1.—Heavy fighting is reported to have occurred near Port Arthur June 26, resulting in the Russians withdrawing from Gun San Shan after severe losses on both sides. The Russians lost 7 officers and nearly 200 men killed. The Japanese losses are believed to be much larger. During the battle they passed over a mine which the Russians successfully exploded.

Tokio, July 1.—A report received from General Oku says that after the fighting at Telissu (Vafangow) on June 25, he buried one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four Russians. The accoutrements taken by the Japanese at this engagement consisted of sixteen guns, forty-six wagons, 938 rifles and other things.

Chifu, July 1.—A rumor is current here that the Russian Port Arthur fleet has made another sortie, and that a number of vessels have succeeded in breaking through the Japanese blockading lines, and are now on their way to join Skryloff and the Vladivostok squadron, which is in the Japan sea. What vessels escaped and whether or not there was a fight is not reported. It is also said that the Russian garrison has made an attack on the Japanese investing lines. General Fock is said to have led the sally, which was made in force. No news has been received as to what the result of the move was. Refugees from Port Arthur arriving here deny that any of the Russian battleships were sunk in the recent fight. They also declare that the Japanese land forces have not been able to inflict any considerable damage on Port Arthur from their artillery fire. General Stoessel, though wounded, retains his command.

RAN THE GANTLET.

Port Arthur Destroyer Arrives in Newchwang With Dispatches.

Newchwang, July 1.—The Russian torpedo boat destroyer Lieutenant Burukoff arrived here from Port Arthur and is berthed alongside the gunboat Sivouch. The river bank was soon crowded with excited natives, who were told by the Russians that the Japanese fleet had been completely destroyed.

The officers of the Lieutenant Burukoff tell several stories. One is that Admiral Togo's report of the fighting was exaggerated, and that the Russians have made two cruises in the Gulf of Pe-Chi-Li in five days.

Another story is that the Port Arthur fleet has joined the Vladivostok squadron.

The correspondent of the Associated Press sent a messenger, who speaks Russian, to the side of the destroyer, but the Russian sailors would not talk, except to say that they left Port Arthur Tuesday night. Every inch of the boat was crowded with men. She had the appearance of having been in a general engagement, her bow gun having been shot away, and it looked as if she had rescued many men. The Lieutenant Burukoff is one of the torpedo boat destroyers taken from the Chinese at Taku in 1900.

The general belief here is that she ran Admiral Togo's blockade and came here with dispatches for the army and for St. Petersburg. This is quite natural, as two Cossack officers were on board.

The Russians last night celebrated the arrival of the Lieutenant Burukoff. Bands of music from the camp east of the town were sent to the administrator's house, where there was singing and a champagne dinner.

TWO YEARS

Brooklyn Judge Decees That the Young Married Couple Must Live Apart.

New York, July 1.—In one of the most amazing decrees given in a divorce suit Supreme Court Justice Dick-ey, in Brooklyn, ordered Pierre Van Arsdale Smith and his young wife to live apart two years, and then, at the end of that time, to again become husband and wife.

During this period Smith, who is a wealthy young Brooklynite and a society man, must pay Mrs. Smith $25 a week alimony, besides her counsel fee—$250. Mrs. Smith is to have the custody of their two children, and the man from whom she has been divorced for two years will be permitted to see them occasionally.

After the justice had announced that he would divorce the pair for two years he turned to Smith and said: "It seems to me that you have an impulse to run around. But since you have supported your wife I naturally hesitate about separating you, because you are both young. It might wreck your lives as well as reflect upon your children to grant a complete divorce merely because of your trivial misunderstandings. I shall grant a separation for two years, and will allow the defendant to see his children during that time."

HARVARD WINS

New London, Conn., July 1.—In the four oared varsity race between Harvard and Yale, Harvard won by a length this morning. The collapse of a Yale man when near the finish permitted Harvard to win. Yale had a good lead when one of the Yale crew dropped over exhausted.

Two Vessels Collide.

Gibraltar, July 1.—The American gunboat Mayflower collided with the British cruiser Bachantli off here today. The damage sustained by the vessels has not been ascertained. The Bachantli is now at anchor.

POKER FOR TRIP ABROAD.

Wealthy Baltimorean's Novel Way of Choosing Traveling Companions.

Nelson Perin, Jr., of Baltimore, son of Nelson Perin, street car magnate and multimillionaire, who died recently, decided to make a trip around the world and take a companion with him, says the New York Herald. He was unable to decide between his two intimate friends, S. Blount Mason, Jr., and Gilbert Rieman. Finally he invited his two friends to his house one evening, dealt out a poker hand to them, stacked a pile of chips before each and told them to get started on the game.

"The man who busts the other," he said, "goes with me around the world. The other stays home."

Luck was first with Mason, and Rieman had been nearly frozen out when the tide turned and Rieman finally had all the chips.

"Congratulations, old boy," Mason said to Rieman. "I wish you as good a time as I expected to have myself."

And then Mr. Perin proved himself a thoroughbred. "Mason goes along," he said. "I'll get tickets tomorrow for three."

But Mr. Mason was a good sport. "No," he said finally. "I've lost, and I stay home. Good luck to both of you."

Perin and Rieman are now on the deep.

LIFE PLANT
CURED
Joseph T. Sawyer, of Trinway, Ohio, conductor, of RHEUMATISM

Mr. Sawyer had rheumatism for 15 years. Tried many different kinds of medicine without obtaining relief. Two bottles of Life Plant cured him.

The Life Plant Co., Canton, Ohio.
Gentlemen: I wish to thank you for the good LIFE PLANT has done for me and my family. I myself have had Rheumatism for the past fifteen years and used all kinds of medicine without any relief. I am a conductor on the Pennsylvania Railroad and am well known. I will endorse the medicine to all my friends. LIFE PLANT is the greatest medicine on earth. I have used two bottles only and it has cured me entirely.
Yours truly,
JOSEPH T. SAWYER.

Life plant has cured 97 out of every 100 cases of rheumatism we have treated. In the past 18 months we have received 10,000 testimonials from rheumatic sufferers cured by Life Plant. A remarkable record. No matter how severe your case or how long standing you can try Life Plant at our expense. If it fails to cure you, your druggist will refund your money, and we will settle with him.

CONSIDINE
GETS AN AUTO RIDE UPON HIS RELEASE FROM PEN.

Will Visit in Detroit, Then Go to New York City, Where a Good Position Awaits Him.

A special dispatch to the Advocate Friday afternoon from Columbus says:

James Considine, who was serving a sentence in the penitentiary of five years for robbing the Granville post-office, and whose sentence was commuted by President Roosevelt, is now a free man. He was released from the penitentiary at 6:30 o'clock this morning, and was met at the entrance of the institution by L. M. Boda, manager of the Great Southern Theatre, and was conveyed in Boda's automobile to the Gerat Southern Hotel, where both had breakfast. At 9 o'clock Considine, still accompanied by Boda, visited the penitentiary and paid a formal visit to Warden Hershey. Considine will leave this evening for Detroit, where he will spend a week with his brother, after which he will go to New York City, where he has accepted the management of a well known summer resort near the metropolis.

OBITUARY.
JAMES MANNERING.

James Mannering, the well known manager of the Idlewild Park Hotel, died very suddenly on Friday morning. He had been ailing for some time, but was able to walk around. This morning he had been out for a short walk, and on returning to the house was taken suddenly sick with neuralgia of the heart, and died in half an hour. He leaves a widow and five children. He had been a resident of Newark for three years. The funeral will take place from the Park Hotel on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, and the interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

MRS. SARAH MACKLIN.

Mrs. Sarah Macklin, a well-known widow, died at her home, one and a half miles northeast of the city, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, after an illness of some time, aged 64 years. Several children survive. The funeral services will be held at her late home Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, and the interment will be made in Cedar Hill.

MRS. CHAS. L. CARPENTER.

Phoebe J. Harrison was born December 5, 1844, died June 21, 1904, aged 59 years 6 months and 9 days. She was married to Charles L. Carpenter February 26, 1865.

Of this union four children were born, Ida, Myrtle, Leona and Delbert. Myrtle having preceded her mother to the spirit land, three children survive to mourn with their father the death of a kind, indulgent, self-sacrificing mother.

She united with the M. E. church at Chatham in 1888 during the pastorate of Rev. L. C. Sparks.

Sister Carpenter's faith was of the kind that sustained her in the last hours of her life when her body was being racked with pain; she patiently submitted her will to the will of "Him who doeth all things well," and repeatedly called upon those nearest and dearest to her in the last moments of her life to say, "Not my will, O God, but thine be done."

Her life was one of self-sacrifice and devotion to her family. No labor was too hard, no sacrifice too great that she did not cheerfully give both for her children.

When nearing the end of life's journey and when she would naturally cling to her family physician for help, she was asked if she would be willing to give up his services for the services of a stranger, that he might take a long planned for vacation, she, taking no thought for herself, but only thinking of his happiness, willingly consented and gave him "God speed."

Sister Carpenter won a warm place in the hearts of those with whom she came in contact, and truly can it be said that her life was not in vain, for "She did what she could."

Her funeral was held at the M. E. church, Fredonia, Ohio, on Sunday, June 26, 1904, conducted by her pastor, the Rev. Forbes B. Davis and attended by a large number of friends.

Mr. Lawrence Kreis, who has a fine position with the Western Electric company, of Chicago, is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kreis, at the Children's Home.

Mr. William Glassmeier, who has been working for the Root Glass company at Terre Haute, Ind. for the past year has returned to Newark where he will spend the next two months.

Claude C. Connel of the Hotel Warden left this morning for the St. Louis exposition. Before returning he intends making a tour through Texas and California and return by the way of Colorado and Chicago, Ill., and will be gone about two months.

Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Bovey, corner of Cedar and Eastern avenue, are entertaining their sisters, the Misses Bovey, of Lexington, Ill., Dayton, O., and Burnsville, W. Va., the latter of whom is in charge of the Conservatory of Music at Burnsville Academy.

Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Simpson and daughter, Miss Helen, who spent some time at Montreat, N. C., for the benefit of Mr. Simpson's health, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Simpson at 209 Maple street. Mr. Simpson returns greatly improved.

Mrs. Ada Chester and daughter Marie, of Newark, visited at R. T. Den's Saturday. Julia Robinson went to Newark last evening to spend a week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Irish.

Mrs. Clay Seymour of Newark is visiting at the home of I. D. Edgar. Mr. Seymour spent Sabbath here, also.—Utica Herald.

Mr. Jones a brother of Barton Jones the well known carpenter, residing on West Locust street, who has been teaching school in one of the suburbs of Chicago, was taken seriously sick a few days ago, and was operated on at one of the Chicago hospitals. He was brought to Newark, arriving here this morning, and was taken to his brother's home on Locust street. He was accompanied by a trained nurse from Chicago. His parents reside in Johnstown, this county.

WEDDINGS.

GORIUS-SCHIMPF.

One of the prettiest church weddings that has taken place in Newark for some time was that which took place at the St. Francis de Sales church on Thursday morning at 7 o'clock. The contracting parties were Mr. L. E. Gorius, a son of Mrs. Elizabeth Gorius, of this city, and a popular stove mounter at the Wehrle stove works, and Miss Clara Schimpf, the charming daughter of Mrs. Francis Schimpf, of 120 Moul street. Promptly at the hour appointed Rev. Father O'Boylan, in the presence of quite a number of the friends of the contracting parties, pronounced the words that made the young people man and wife. Mr. Frank Mincer acted as best man and Miss Glen Keim was the bridesmaid. At the conclusion of the ceremony congratulations were showered on the happy couple, after which the bride's parents repaired to the home of the bride's mother, where a fine wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorius left on the 1 o'clock train on Thursday afternoon for Pittsburgh and other points and will be gone about two weeks, when they will return to the city, where they will make their future home. They were accompanied on their trip by Mrs. F. J. Schimpf and children, John Schimpf and Mr. P. M. Birmingham.

Those who were in attendance at the wedding were: Mrs. Gorius, Miss Glen Keim, Frank Mincer, Miss Agnes Gorius, Miss Maggie Gorius, Henry Gorius, Mr. and Mrs. George Gorius, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schimpf and Edward Schimpf, John Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schimpf, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schimpf and children, Charles Bentz, Fred Sayers, Miss Mame McKim, P. Birmingham and Revs. Fathers O'Boylan and Watterson.

The out-of-town guests were P. M. Birmingham, of Pittsburgh, and John Tayer, of Fairmont, Ind.

The happy couple have the best wishes of a host of friends.

REUNION

OF SOLDIERS AT BLACK HAND ON AUGUST 18.

The New Electric Road Will Afford Better Facilities Than Ever for Attending

The nineteenth annual reunion of the ex-soldiers and sailors of the civil war and citizens will be held at Black Hand on Thursday, August 18. A number of prominent citizens of the county and state have been invited to be present and deliver addresses. There will be an unusually interesting program of speeches, music, etc. The completion of the electric road to Zanesville will afford better facilities than ever for going to and returning from Black Hand, as cars will leave every hour for that point. A cordial invitation is extended to all veterans of the Civil War and the public generally to attend the reunion. Come with well filled baskets, spend a day in the woods, listen to a program that will be full of interest and mingle again with the boys in blue that fought for the Union. Details will be given later.

Judge Parker's Probable Nomination.

Already the advance guard of State delegations are arriving at St. Louis and predictions are being freely made as to the Democratic nominee for President. It is plain that there is a strong and growing sentiment for Judge Parker. That he will have a clear majority on the first or second ballot seems an assured fact. The drift of opinion is certainly toward him and changes of conditions in his favor are plainly in evidence. Some material objections to his candidacy have been removed. Among these is the retirement of David B. Hill from leadership of the Parker forces. This fact has eliminated much of the opposition that existed among the leaders of Tammany Hall and removes the chief objection that has been raised in most quarters against Judge Parker. The delegations from every surely Democratic State and from the doubtful States whose votes are essential to Democratic success are either instructed for the New York jurist or are friendly to him as first or second choice.

It is plain, too, to every intelligent observer, that Judge Parker can command more support in all the great States of the Middle West than any other candidate who is a favorite in the East. In all respects Judge Parker is an ideal candidate, and there seems to be no doubt among the majority of the Democratic leaders that he possesses more of the elements of real strength than any other candidate whose name has been mentioned.

Rural Mail Ruling.

(Communicated.)

By the ruling of the rural free delivery department on and after the first day of July, 1904, a mail carrier will positively not be allowed to carry any passengers only postoffice officials. Our carriers have many times accommodated us and will yet as far as the rules will permit, but we must not ask or even expect him to let us ride with him while on duty, for if he does so and it would be reported to the department, it will perhaps cause him to lose his job. Let us be careful and considerate and do not ask or expect the carrier to do anything that will cause him trouble, for we must remember he is in the employ of the government, which will stand no fooling.

JUDGE PARKER AND HIS GRANDSON AT ROSEMONT.

Judge Alton Brooks Parker, one of the conspicuous candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination, is a doting grandfather and is never so happy as when romping with his grandchild at Rosemont, Esopus, N. Y. His little grandson, Master Hall, is an especial favorite.

to be Mr. Belmont, in which he gives the figures of Parker's strength on the first ballot as follows:

Alaska, 6; Arkansas, 18; Connecticut, 14; Georgia, 26; Indiana, 30; Louisiana, 18; Mississippi, 20; New York, 8; Tennessee, 24; Texas, 38; Alabama, 22; Florida, 7; Indian Territory, 6; Kentucky, 26; Maine, Iowa and Michigan, 28; Montana, 6; New Hampshire, 6; New Jersey, 24; North Carolina, 24; Rhode Island, 2; South Carolina, 16; Utah, 4; Vermont, 8; Virginia, 24; Colorado, 3; Minnesota, 11; Washington, 3. Total, 504.

Mr. Lamb says there has never been a Democratic convention where a man with a majority on the first ballot did not get the nomination.

MURPHY'S STATEMENT.

Tammany Chief Still Favors Grover Cleveland's Nomination.

New York, July 1.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, made a statement today as to his attitude with reference to the national Democratic convention. He said:

"I would like to say, in view of the reports that I am booming a candidate for the national convention, that I am booming no candidate. I am instructed for Parker, but I have not changed from my original position. I still hold that Cleveland is the strongest man that can be nominated."

"Tammany delegates being instructed for Parker, how can they go to St. Louis and work for Cleveland?" was asked.

"I am instructed for Parker," was the reply. "That's all I have to say about that."

"Is there any possibility that the Tammany delegation may be released from its instruction after the first ballot?"

"I can't say anything as to that."

JOHN R. McLEAN

Announces His Preference for Grover Cleveland.

Washington, July 1.—John R. McLean, of Ohio, last night made a flat-footed declaration in favor of the nomination of Grover Cleveland. He said: "Mr. Cleveland is the vote-getter in the Democratic party; is the most popular Democrat in the United States and the only man who has a ghost of a show to beat Roosevelt."

"As Cleveland cannot turn a colder shoulder to me than Roosevelt, and as I am anxious to see the party win regardless of personalities, I think Cleveland should be nominated."

"I believe the convention at St. Louis will reach the same conclusion. At a conference here a few days ago it was agreed with me that Cleveland was the strongest man in the party."

William R. Hearst arrived here Thursday and had a conference with McLean, who controls the Ohio delegation to the St. Louis convention. Much significance is attached to the conference, but neither participant will say what subject was under consideration. It is believed Hearst's mission was to induce McLean to throw the Ohio strength to the editor.

CHAMPION FOR JUDGE HARMON.

St. Louis, July 1.—Judge R. M. Ditt, of Columbus, O., has arrived here, as the advance guard of Judge Harmon's presidential boom. He has opened Harmon headquarters at the Jefferson, in a suite of four rooms, and the famous Duckworth club of Cincinnati will be at the Lindell to swell the chorus in behalf of the popular Ohio Lawyer, who was formerly President Cleveland's attorney general.

ARIZONA DELEGATION.

St. Louis, July 1.—"The Arizona delegation is instructed for Hearst, but after the second ballot will support Judge Parker," said J. B. Breathitt, national committeeman from that territory. "In my opinion the New York jurist will be nominated on the third or fourth ballot."

DEATH OF COMMITTEEMAN RYAN.

St. Louis, July 1.—J. R. Ryan, member of the national Democratic committee from Nevada, died at the Jefferson hotel shortly after 8 o'clock.

McCLELLAN AND ROSE.

Dark Horse Ticket of Mayors of New York and Milwaukee.

St. Louis, July 1.—McClellan and Rose is the ticket which is being quietly tipped by a leading member of the Michigan delegation, and one of the most prominent Democrats in the country.

"Don't use my name," said he, "for with the rest of my delegation I am pledged to Parker. The word has been passed around to go to McClellan if Parker cannot be nominated. McClellan can secure the unqualified support of Tammany, and Mayor Rose, of Milwaukee, is especially available by reason of the Republican row in Wisconsin. We can carry New York and Wisconsin, with McClellan and Rose. Bryan is not hostile to McClellan, and while the Nebraska does not quite understand the platform views of the New York mayor, I believe the two men could get together."

Without doubt McClellan is the most likely of the dark horses at this time, and the opinion of some leading men now here is that the nomination will go to a dark horse.

MOTHER

And Two Children Were Struck by the Car—Girl Was Killed and Boy Was Fatally Hurt.

Findlay, O., July 1.—Katie Grose, aged 8, was instantly killed; her brother, Eugene, aged 3, was fatally injured, and the mother, Mrs. John Grose, was seriously injured in a street car accident on the North Side yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Grose and the children had just stepped off a city car and attempted to cross the street in front of a large Toledo, Bowling Green and Southern car, approaching from the opposite direction.

The little girl slipped and fell. Mrs. Grose was carrying the boy in her arms, and in attempting to rescue the child from her perilous position the trio were struck and knocked to the pavement. The girl was horribly mangled. A deep cut was inflicted in the boy's head, and his death is only a question of a few hours. Mrs. Grose was badly cut and bruised, but she will recover. She is nearly crazed with grief.

DRAWINGS

Are Inspected by Many People—Over 600 Specimens Now in Powers-Miller Windows.

There are now over six hundred specimens of drawing by Newark's public school pupils in the Powers-Miller company's large windows. A better place could not have been chosen.

Drawing was introduced in our schools twelve years ago by Captain F. G. Steele, who has taught and directed the work ever since. The system used is largely his own creation, and how well his work has been done is told by this remarkable display. The system used shows educational foundations and not mere picture making—its fundamental idea is to make drawing of value to the skilled worker in all lines. The observer will note geometric construction, type-form, perspective, scientific color, exactness in execution, liberal selections from classic design, etc. The system is so compiled that the work is of equal benefit to the artist and the skilled mechanic. Industrial art is essential to all nations that manufacture for the markets of the world.

Captain Steele desires to publicly recognize the faithful manner in which the grade teachers have done their share of the work—without their support the results shown could not have been produced. Superintendents Hartzler and Townsend were quick to see the merits of this work and gave it full approval.

What the pupils have done is to be seen in the work on exhibition. The drawing of the Newark schools stands as equal to the best in the country.

Drawing is not taught beyond the first year in the high school. It should be extended at least two years higher.

The drawings will remain on exhibition till Monday. Many people are viewing them.

RAIN

CAUSES CONTINUANCE OF THE MOLDERS' PICNIC.

Big Program of Events Will Be Carried Out at State Camp Ground Tomorrow.

The annual picnic of the Iron Molders' Union of this city, which was to have been held at the State Camp grounds today, has been continued until tomorrow. A large crowd of the molders and their friends went out to the grounds today, but on account of the heavy rain it was decided to continue the outing tomorrow, when an interesting program of sports, will be carried out. Attractive prizes that have been furnished by the business men and firms of the city, will be contested for and the sport will be rare and interesting. The Glenford Cornet Band will furnish the music for the occasion, and a big time is anticipated.

A little life may be sacrificed to an hour's delay. Cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea come suddenly. Only safe plan is have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry always on hand.

MORTON

Sworn in as Secretary of Navy and Secretary Moody as Attorney General Today.

Washington, July 1.—Paul Morton, of Chicago, who has obtained nine months' leave of absence from his duties as second vice president of the Santa Fe railway to enter President Roosevelt's cabinet for the remainder of the president's term, was sworn in as secretary of the navy this morning shortly before ten o'clock.

Mr. Moody was then sworn in as attorney general and both men attended the cabinet meeting at the White House later.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Instruction in the summer session at the High School begins next Tuesday at 8 a. m. All pupils who intend to enter classes are requested to register at the principal's office at that time.

Arrangement of class hours and study periods will be made on consultation with Mr. Childs or Mr. Tait. Payment of tuition for the session is expected in advance unless special arrangements are made at the time of registration.

The office will be open again at the morning hour for consultation, tomorrow, July 2. 102t

GAS NOTES

WHAT IS NOW GOING ON IN THE LICKING COUNTY FIELD.

Two and Three Million Foot Wells Common—Receiver for One Company Talked Of.

Utica, July 1.—The Herald has collected the following news of the gas field:

The Utica company's No. 6 will be in about Tuesday.

A J Wilson'serrick is up.

Edward Pearsall brought in a well for the Central Ohio Saturday, it being No. 2 on the Licking lease. It is a little better than a two million well.

The Cameron Stinson well of the Logan company was given a 60-quart shot by Wm. Morey Saturday. The shot brought a flow of about three millions.

Centerburg has granted a franchise to the Logan company. The price allowed is 25 cents per thousand net for three years, and 30 cents net the succeeding seven years, but each consumer must pay a minimum sum of 50 cents each month. Utica's ten cent rate for domestic uses is attractive compared with any other town.

T W. Smith has located another well, the sixth in the Union Station-Hebron neighborhood. It is on the "Squire Jones" lease.

The second Greersville well, which is being drilled on the George Kaylor farm four miles northeast of the oil well the same company got on the Tisseron lease, reached the sand last week, and the drillers reported that they had lost their tools and were waiting for a fishing outfit. The Herald's special representative reports that while they are "waiting for fishing tools" they are busy erecting a 250-barrel tank, and closing up the derrick. Notices of "Stay-Out" have been posted.

The Johnstown Independent says: "A meeting of the stockholders of the Johnstown Oil and Gas company was held June 30th. The president, James Israel, Philip Krebs, and Forbings Bros all of Mt. Vernon, attended the meeting. The debts of the company are now about $3,000 and an offer has been made by one of the big companies to buy the stock at par, and pay the debts providing all of the stock is turned over. Unless this can be done by July 1st, a receiver will be applied for to wind up the affairs of the company. A. W. Ogle has a paper to secure an option on the outstanding stock and stockholders will do well to sign the paper, as the stock of the company would likely not pay par on stock under a receivership."

The test well drilled by the Logan company on the Pumper farm in Tipton township, Coshocton county, just east of the village of Cavallo, was drilled in Friday. It proved to be dry, but the formations there are such that it is hardly a satisfactory test.

The well west of Mullersburg is due to come in this week.

What Hicks Says.

Prof Hicks, the weather prophet, says that July will begin in the last stages of a storm period which storm will be followed by cooler weather.

Higher temperature and a thundering time on the 4th, which will continue to the 6th during which time look for rain storms.

From the 11th to 15th things will be scorching hot, with probable threatening storms, cloud bursts, etc. Heavy hail storms to the west and north will do stunts at his time.

Taking the month as a whole there will be a lack of a needful amount of moisture.

LANCASTER PITCHER MADE THE NEWARK TEAM LOOK.

Visitors Scored Shutout at Idlewild Park and This Tells How It Was Done.

The star left-handed twirler of the Lancaster baseball team, Mr. Potts by name, made the Idlewild batters look like thirty cents on Thursday and the result of the game was 3 to 0 in favor of the team of which Mr. Potts is a member.

To show how completely Mr. Potts was master of the situation it is only necessary to cite the eighth inning. Snodgrass, the first man up, singled, and Stone received one of the Lancaster twirlers' two gifts just as "Snow" started to steal. With none out and a man on first and second, it seemed reasonable that at least one run should result. Instead, Mr. Potts retired Taylor and Justice on strikes and Partell was easy on a fly to Heller.

The sixth was a comedy of errors in which Umpire Sam Richards took a prominent part and one of Lancaster's runs was a pure gift from the arbiter of play. Perry had been retired in this inning, Stone to Farrell, when Murray was hit by Stone. He got to second on Stone's wild throw and on Locke's hit went to third. He scored by the grace of Richards' decision at the plate. The bases were full when Out call hit to Justice, who threw to Snodgrass. The catcher kept his foot on the plate until Murray had passed, but Richards called the runner safe. The tabulated score follows:

THE RAILWAYS

Engine Exploded, Killing Three

Johnstown, Pa., July 1.—A locomotive boiler exploded on the Pennsylvania railroad while going up the mountain 30 yards from Eberfeld station, killing three men, injuring 12 others, one of them fatally. The dead are:

John Wissinger, engineer.

D. C. Chouch, fireman.

Walter Ross, flagman.

The injured are Archibald Boyle, conductor, cannot recover.

J. D. Smith, brakeman; seriously hurt.

Freight Train Smashed.

A bad smash-up occurred two miles west of Mansfield, on the Lake Erie division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, Thursday. A wheel on one of the cars of a westbound freight train broke and a number of coal cars were derailed, smashed and piled up on the track. The wreck train was sent to the scene of the accident, and it required some hours to clear up things. Passenger trains Nos. 4, 17 and 7 were all delayed by the wreck.

Improvements at Grafton.

Many comments have been made recently by the railroad men of Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio about the excellent condition of the Grafton yards at present. A large amount of money has been expended during the past year on improvements and they are now in a first class condition. The yards have been enlarged and with the improved methods of switching the switchmen have little trouble in handling a much larger number of cars. The offices and shops have been improved with the rest of the equipment and everything that will tend to aid the men in the way of conveniences is at hand—Wheeling News.

THE W. C. T. U.

The last meeting for June, 1904, was held Tuesday in the church parlors. Mrs. Patt led the devotionals. A good lesson was read from St. John's Gospel and the theme was Love. The leader read a few extracts from the writings of Prof. Drummond, among which was the following:

"We shall pass through this world but once. Any good thing I can do, show to any human being, let me do it now. Let me not defer it or neglect it for I shall not pass this way again. This world is not a playground; it is a schoolroom. Life is not a holiday but an education, and the one eternal lesson for us all how better we can love."

This was a very interesting part of the meeting. At 3 o'clock the business part was taken up. Mrs. Holbrook and Mrs. Stella Anderson were appointed as a committee to place posters in prominent places, pertaining to our next room. The public is invited to call. A good dinner for 20 cents; lunch, 15 cents.

Next Tuesday will be a business meeting. Reports of superintendents will be given. We trust that many will be present.

The Passing of "Torpedo Jim"

A Fourth of July Sketch
By J. HOWARD SMILEY

[Copyright, 1904, by J. Howard Smiley]

It was a clear, crisp morning when "Torpedo Jim" drove up to the house and waited for Annie to come out. The buggy was of a peculiar build, and a stranger would have wondered at the high springs and elevated box. On one side there were forked iron holders at the front and rear which served to carry long tin shells much resembling pieces of unpalated water spouting, only that they were larger in diameter and tapered to a sealed point at one end.

The seat rested upon the top of a square box and a hinged lid was locked down over the box behind. Even to one unfamiliar with the sights of the old regions there would have been carried intuitively a suggestion of dread from the very appearance of the carriage, but to those who knew and appreciated the character of the torpedo business there was a feeling of pity mingled with admiration for the reckless "shooter" who traveled the rough mountainous roads daily with scores of quarts of nitroglycerin beneath him.

When Jim, in high boots, blue flannel shirt and a soft hat with the wide rim turned back, drove rapidly through the town, people would stop and look carefully after him and then pass along about their business again with the satisfactory reflection that they could say, at least, that they had seen him "the day it happened."

Annie came down to the gate and there was a sad expression about her sweet, womanly face, and she was trying to be brave about it, but it was hard to keep the tears back, for the recollection of the talk with Jim the night before and the realization of the long journey away into another country and strange home about to be undertaken was strong upon her.

Jim was the first to speak, and his words came with unusual clearness.

"I've been thinking it all over, Annie," he said, "sinking down at the twitting face, and I know you were right. You were all right from first to last, and I'm all wrong."

Jim looked over at the little porch which he had come to know so well and after a short pause continued: "And I'm glad you're going away—away from these talking people, who seem to have no mercy in their hearts for a fellow who's done wrong, even if he does try to live it down, and I have tried, Annie, tried so hard. But you know all about that. It's an old story."

The tear which had been struggling came out on Annie's eyelash and glistened there. Though it had been an unusually long sentence for Jim, he had not finished.

"And then this business"—he made a careless gesture toward the carriage—"you couldn't stand that, and I don't blame you. Every one would be telling you that I would be killed, and all that, until you'd get all nervous and worried, though I don't see what ails people anyhow. It's not their business."

There was a long silence. Plainly Jim had something else to say. He hesitated, not knowing exactly how to say it. Finally he spoke.

"Annie"—he reached down and took her hand in a farewell grasp—"if you would soon settle down, but Jim did not appear.

Away down the road Jim was driving slowly along in deep study. He stopped at a bend in the wild, unfrequented highway and took a long survey of the surroundings. It was a supreme moment.

"The Fourth's a good day to do it, too," Jim muttered.

He got down from his seat and went up to the horses, patting them lovingly, for he was attached to the pair of faithful grays, and with tears in his eyes he said, speaking to them as though they were human:

"Goodby, Prince, old fellow—and Beau, faithful always in the past, faithful now. Our ends will be sudden."

THE PASSING OF "TORPEDO JIM."

den, at least, and they will all say, 'I told you so!' but we won't hear them. We'll be far away—far, far away."

He ran to the rear of the wagon and hastily unlocked the lid, disclosing a half dozen bright tin cans. Carefully removing the cork of one of the cans, he inserted a fuse, took a careful glance up and down the road to be sure no one was in the neighborhood, struck a match and, taking up a bundle, quickly disappeared into the woods.

The day after the Fourth of July the papers all had long accounts of the "terrible catastrophe," with sketches made by special artists "on the spot." Great crowds of curious people drove to the scene and looked vacantly at the hole in the ground, which was the only evidence of the sudden ending of the life of "Torpedo Jim."

"I had a sort of presentment when I saw Jim go past my shop today," said one man to another, "and I took a long look at him. Then, too, it was just the day for noise. He seemed thoughtful, and for the first time since I've known him he failed to nod to me."

"Poor Jim," said another. "He had faults, same as the rest of us, but he had a heart—he had a heart! Poor old Jim!"

THE FIRST CELEBRATION

On the first Fourth of July, 1776, there was no stir in Boston. There was neither telegraph nor telephone to spread the news. The old Liberty bell in faraway Philadelphia was doing all in its power to proclaim the fact that the United States was free but it required time for the copies of the immortal document to be prepared and sent by mounted messengers to each town in the colonies.

General Artemas Ward received this official notice in Boston:

Philadelphia, July 6, 1776. Sir—The inclosed Declaration of Independence I am directed to transmit to you with a request that you will have it proclaimed at the head of the troops under your command, in the way you shall think most proper. I have only time to add that the importance of it will naturally suggest the propriety of proclaiming it in such a manner as that the whole army may be apprised of it. I have the honor to be, sir, your most obed. and very hble servt., JOHN HANCOCK, President.

One can well imagine the first genuine independence shout that rent the atmosphere of Boston as General Artemas Ward proclaimed the fact to the army in and about the town. The Declaration was next read to a great assemblage in and around Faneuil hall. The celebration occurred at noon on July 17. Colonel Crafts read the immortal document, and as the last sentence fell from his lips a great shout went up from those gathered in the "cradle of liberty," as the old hall was named, and was taken up by the crowds on the outside. Soon the batteries on Fort Hill, Dorchester, Nantasket and Long Island boomed forth salutes of thirteen guns.

In Philadelphia the celebration occurred on July 8. In the statehouse yard a great concourse of people was gathered, and here the king's arms were taken down and burned, while the bells rang wild notes of freedom.

BOND

TURNED OVER TO THE RECEIVER BY MR. L. P. SCHAUS.

Names of a Number of Prominent Newark Men Said to Be Attached to the Document.

It has developed in the examination of the affairs of the Newark Savings Bank company that one of the principal assets of the bank which was turned over to Receiver Tafel by former President L. P. Schaus is a perpetual bond, given by some of the most prominent business and professional men in the city in favor of Mr. James F. Lingafelter as cashier of the defunct bank. The bond was in the custody of Mr. Schaus until Friday afternoon when it was given to the receiver to act upon as he saw fit.

Mr. Schaus said that the bond was good as far as most of the signers were concerned, and he realized that it would be published as soon as suit was brought upon it, should the receiver's report show any shortage or irregularity in Mr. Lingafelter's accounts he could see no reason for not printing the names of the signers now; except that some of them might object.

Accordingly an Advocate representative saw Mr. Tafel this afternoon in regard to the bond.

Mr. Tafel said when asked to show the bond to a newspaper man that he would have to first consult his attorney and would act in accordance with his advice.

BOUND OVER

A YOUNG BOY ON THE CHARGE OF ARSON.

Lad From Children's Home Is Released on $200 Bond, Signed by Mrs. Edward Glynn.

John Cashdollar aged about seventeen, who was indentured from the Children's Home by Edward Glynn, of Fredonia, and who was arrested by Deputy State Fire Marshal Garret Fox, of Columbus, on the charge of setting fire to a house occupied by Albert Shaffer and family, while they were in Newark on May 26, attending Barnum's circus, had his hearing before Mayor Crilly Friday afternoon. The boy was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $200. It was testified that the young man had set some shavings on fire in the woodshed, near the house, and that Cashdollar had been given twenty-five cents by a man to do so. Mrs. Edward Glynn went on the young man's bond. Attorney G. C. Daugherty represented the defendant, and Attorney Frank Bolton the plaintiff.

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivalled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

JAPANESE JOTTINGS.

Japan is everywhere rich in water power. Consequently, even in small country towns, there are electric lights and local telephone lines.

It is now accounted a disgrace for any Japanese of any class to retain any articles of gold. All have been sent to the treasury to be converted into coin for the emperor.

Among the ancient treasures of Japan which the mikado has poured into the military chest are gold coins issued three centuries ago. They are of large size and of almost pure metal and worth much more than their intrinsic value, of course.

COATS OF MANY KINDS.

Pongee Long Coats—The Next Little Taffetas—A Traveling Coat.

There is nothing so fetching as the colored pongee long coats lined with white liberty satins, soft and lustrous. Long and full are the skirts, gauged by cords or shirtings upon a yoke entirely hidden under trimmings of the same in shirred and ruffled bands or with laces to match these pongees. They have top yoke in setting of velvet either matching or in some smart contrast. The favorite pongees besides those of natural tint are greens—true oriental tints, however—blue of turquoise, cranberry red and pearl white. String and ecru laces are used, but the latest examples have self trimmings with passementerie fringed ornaments.

Short white cloth coats when not embroidered in open a four style or inset and applied with heavy antique laces for trimming are sure to have a military touch of gold buttons and braid reservedly executed with or without a slight introduction of color, red or pale blue, defining the strap motif, always so effective.

Short taffeta coats make, however, the best bid for favor. They are smartest worn on occasions rather than generally, but the silks must be soft as well as exceedingly lustrous and without dominant figures. Louisines and changeable taffetas, together with single colors, are the best choice. The smartest models have a bottom finish to their full skirts gathered on deep yokes of five half inch tucks upon the bottom, forming a band. Five bias nar-

The neck finish is an empiement of batiste embroidery of the finest as well as lace and embroidery or insettings of panne peau de soie or chiffon velvet of a contrasting color or a match shade.

Very full sleeves are shirred into a cavalier cuff, or the sleeve enters a habit band, wide and broad, having five frills of batiste or lace in two or three rows. The sleeve laces are no longer worn very wide, but rather with an increase of frills of narrower widths which obviates that straggling effect which is anything but smart in drapery.

Heavy white linen and cheviot loose coats on box models and equally short ones are a mass of both open and heavy embroidery. There is a great deal of style about them, whether worn with match skirts, the front panel alone embroidered, or with other elaborate gowns.

All over black passementerie short, loose coats are for dowagers' wear, and very beautiful and fine is their workmanship. Vogue, which is the source of the foregoing fashion items, also illustrates a swell traveling coat of tan colored taffeta, as here shown.

THE REV.
MR. DINSMORE

By ROB MCHEYNE

Copyright, 1904, by R. M. George

Scroggsfield was to have a new minister. The whole village was interested, for, although there were several churches in the little hamlet, this was the first new minister to appear in a whole generation.

The deacon's committee had divided on the subject, some favoring a young man and some an older and wiser head, but Brother Williams had turned the scale by threatening to withdraw his subscription unless a young and "progressive" man should be called.

Accordingly after much lobbying on the part of the Ladies' Aid society it was announced that the Rev. Mr. Dinsmore, a young student of divinity, had been selected and that he would occupy the pulpit the following Sunday.

Saturday morning came, and as the new minister had not yet put in an appearance the village was on the alert. He would surely come that day.

They were not disappointed. When the 11:10 train pulled into the depot a stranger stepped off and presented himself at the ticket window.

He was a most affable young man and was jauntily dressed.

"Good morning," he said, and he put such an emphasis on the first word that it sounded almost like a chant.

Miss Williams, the operator, looked up from her lunch and quickly slipped a half eaten egg into her apron pocket.

"Can you tell me, madam," said the gentleman, smiling, "everything I want to know about this historic and progressive city of Scroggsfield?"

"I—why, yes, sir, I think so, if you please, sir," she stammered, quite overcome.

"Well, that's lucky for me," the stranger exclaimed enthusiastically. "Now, if you will," he continued, "just tell me where the new church is located, and, I swear, I'll remember you in my daily prayers."

"I AM THE REV. MR. DINSMORE."

The operator had begun to resent his manner, but now she understood. It was the new minister.

"It's on South Main street, the church is," she said, "right next to Farnham's drug store and hat emporium. But maybe you'd better go down to our house and see paw. He's on the deacon's committee and can tell you anything you want to know."

"Thanks," replied the affable stranger, pushing his Panama on to the back of his head and winking boldly at the abashed and flustered girl. "Praps I will call, but not specially when your paw's at home. Oh, by the way, Miss—Miss—"

He waited.

"Williams," she said.

"Ah, Miss Williams: Well, now, Miss Williams, tell your paw I'll meet the committee at the church this evening at 5. That's a good girl. Thanks. Now, where's the hotel?"

Miss Williams looked askance. "The Temperance House is right across from the church," she said.

The stranger gulped hard and went out.

Within five minutes the deacon's daughter had managed to get the word to her folks, and the village soon knew that the new minister was in town. When Deacon Williams started around to tell the rest of the committee he met the indignant president of the Ladies' Aid society upon his doorstep.

"What kind of a man is this young Dinsmore?" she demanded. "If he preaches tomorrow you can drop my name from the subscription list."

The deacon stared blankly.

"He's been throwing kisses at my daughter from the balcony of the Grandview hotel," she continued, "and, what's more, she's been throwing them back."

The deacon looked pained and refused to believe it. But at the first corner he was stopped by the village postmaster.

"Huh," says he, "that's a nice kind of a minister you've picked up. He's jes' won $5 off Barney Miller on a dog fight."

The deacon turned to go.

"He says he'll save that church from bein' struck off the face of the earth with a thunderbolt," called the postmaster.

"They told me Rev. Dinsmore had original methods," mused the deacon, "but bettin' on dog fights an' sparkin' with the girls in public's too original."

At Brother Andrews' he met three members of the Ladies' Aid society, all talking at once. From the medley of voices he learned that the new minister had been seen to drink five whisky highballs within a half hour, that he had tipped the barber 10 cents and that he had asked the buxom widow Carewe to go driving with him.

The ladies were still talking when the good deacon made his escape and set out for the house of another committee member, whither Brother Andrews had already preceded him.

The brethren met him with reproachful silence. Brother Andrews was the first to speak.

"Well, deacon," he said, "you see what your progressiveness has come to."

The deacon shook his head in solemn self-reproach. "Well, Brother Andrews," he said finally, "I'm afraid this young Dinsmore's too progressive for Scroggsfield, but we'll have a chance to sound him. He's asked me to gather the committee at the church this afternoon. That's what I came around for."

The three old deacons started solemnly off for the church. In the street there was a great commotion as two teams went dashing up and down the main thoroughfare, neck and neck, the drivers hallowing in lusty tones and brandishing their whips.

As the foremost team passed the three deacons, Brother Andrews recognized the widow Carewe, smiling gayly from her place beside the dauntless Dinsmore. In another instant the sporting parson had turned his horses and was drawing up at the church door.

"Ha!" he exclaimed, slapping the deacons one by one upon the shoulder. "I'm just in time, I see. Fine church this!" He waved his hand affably. "Come in, come in. I'll not detain you but a minute." And he led the way into the little anteroom, where the rest of the committee sat awaiting an opportunity to pass on Rev. Dinsmore.

"Now, gentlemen," he said, turning and shifting his hat to the back of his head, "I called you out here to talk to you about the salvation of this church. I tell you, gentlemen, you're to be commended and congratulated in having built so fine an edifice to the glory of Scroggsfield. But, I tell you, gentlemen, you've built this church in defiance of eternal laws—laws that are not to be defied by man. I wonder, gentlemen, that our magnificent building hasn't been struck down by a thunderbolt from heaven. I—"

A meek mannered stranger, wearing thick glasses and carrying a badly scuffed gripsack, had entered the door and was approaching timidly. The speaker stopped in the midst of his harangue, and the newcomer stood looking from one to another.

"I am the Rev. Mr. Dinsmore," he said apologetically. "Can you tell me—"

"What?" cried the six, starting to their feet.

"Dinsmore," said the stranger faintly.

"Then who are you?" demanded Deacon Williams of the first stranger.

"I beg your pardon, gentlemen—my card," and the speaker graciously presented one to each of the committee.

"J. P. Rowser, Esquire," he went on proudly, "representing the greatest lightning rod establishment in the world. I tell you, gentlemen, your magnificent building is in eternal danger from the fierce and vengeful ravages of—"

But the committee were busily engaged shaking hands with each other and with the Rev. Mr. Dinsmore.

Savage and Civilized Dress.

Writing of "Savage and Civilized Dress," Edwin Swift Balch says that, while it might be assumed that the superior development of the brain of civilized man would result in some form of dress far better and more tasteful than anything found among savages, it may be doubted whether this is the case. One marked error of civilized dress is its interference with the proper ventilation of the skin. The human animal breathes with his entire skin. Refuse matter is thrown off as perspiration through every pore. The fact is well known, but in the garments of civilization it is almost universally unrecognized. Savages readily discern that the most curious deformity achieved by civilized people is produced in their feet by means of the civilized shoe. A medical officer asserts that a large proportion of the volunteers for the United States army have to be rejected on account of imperfect feet. Savage peoples do not distort their feet. They wear sandals or moccasins or fur boots, but their footgear always conforms to and does not have to be broken in by the foot.

The Gad Whip.

A quaint custom of very old date was observed until 1845 in the parish of Carston, Lincolnshire, England. A representative of the estate of Broughton came into the church porch during the reading of the first lesson and three times cracked a gad whip, which he folded neatly up. He then returned to a seat and during the reading of the second lesson approached the minister with the whip held upright and bowed to its upper end a burse containing thirty pieces of silver.

The precise origin of the custom is uncertain. There is reference no doubt to the gospel story in the thirty pieces of silver and there may be some connection with the ancient custom of the "procession of the ass," another Palm Sunday observance of the early church, in the whip.

The term "gad whip" has puzzled British antiquaries, but it is probably akin to the "gad" used in the time of Burns for driving horses. London Express.

Miss M. Cartledge gives some helpful advice to young girls. Her letter is but one of thousands which prove that nothing is so helpful to young girls who are just arriving at the period of womanhood as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly, for it is the only medicine I ever tried which cured me. I suffered much from my first menstrual period, I felt so weak and dizzy at times I could not pursue my studies with the usual interest. My thoughts became sluggish, I had headaches, backaches and sinking spells, also pains in the back and lower limbs. In fact, I was sick all over."

"Finally, after many other remedies had been tried, we were advised to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am pleased to say that after taking it only two weeks, a wonderful change for the better took place, and in a short time I was in perfect health. I felt buoyant, full of life, and found all work a pastime. I am indeed glad to tell my experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it made a different girl of me. Yours very truly, Miss M. Cartledge, 533 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga."

At such a time, the greatest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the necessary changes, and is the surest and most reliable cure for woman's ills of every nature. Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. Estes, of New York City, says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to you because I believe all young girls ought to know how much good your medicine will do them. I did dress-making for years before I was married, and if it had not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I do not believe I could have stood the strain. There is no other work that is such a strain on the system. Oh, how my back used to ache from the bending over! I would feel as though I would have to scream out from the pain, and the sitting still made me so terribly tired and weak, and my head throbbled like an engine. I never could eat after work, I was so worn out. Then I was irregular, and had such frightful cramps every month they would simply double me up with pain, and I would have to give up working and lie down. But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound changed me into a strong, well woman. Yours very truly, Mrs. MARTHA ESTES, 513 West 125th St., N. Y. City."

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of female troubles cured. Sold by druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutions. Remember every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

An Idea in Billboards.

An American or Englishman looks in vain on the streets in Freiburg for any of the huge advertising billboards that disgrace to such a great extent his home cities. Flashing electric signs, that blaze over half the heaven by night and demand in a dozen and ten blue letters that one use "Brown's pure eye" or somebody else's "little liver pills," are also absent. In place of these necessities of nineteenth century commercialism Freiburg has established a system of municipal bulletin boards and columns. There are fifty of these display places in the city, situated where they will attract the most attention without injuring in any way the appearance of the street as a whole. A person having something to announce goes to the city hall with his bills, pays his fee, which is 25 cents per square foot for the first day and 10 cents for each succeeding day, with liberal reductions for long periods, and goes out. On his way home he will see the poster already sticking up his notice—Pigrit!

Knew Uncle's Appetite.

"Johnny," said Uncle Peter, "do you suppose I would sit at this table and eat as long as you have?"

"No, uncle," responded the truthful child. "There wouldn't be any more table to keep you busy for more than five minutes."—Chicago Tribune.

REUNION

OF HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF '99 AT BUCKEYE LAKE.

Twenty-three of Thirty-four Members Present and Prof. Richards, Former Principal, Was Also There.

The members of the class of 1899 of the Newark High school held their annual reunion Thursday evening at Buckeye Lake.

Twenty-three members of the class out of the thirty-four who graduated were present. The party left Newark on the five o'clock car to the lake where the banquet was held at seven o'clock. Upon arriving at the lake, they went boat riding and strolled through the beautiful park, finding fresh beauties at every turn.

The banquet was served in the large dining hall at the edge of the lake. The members of the class were seated at one long table which was beautifully decorated with sweet peas, geraniums and ferns.

After the banquet they all enjoyed a delightful moonlight ride on the lake in the steam launch. The short and severe storm before the boat ride made the moon to appear to shine more brightly and made the air much sweeter, so that the boat ride was enjoyed much more by the merry party, who sang their old familiar school songs and told stories of their past but pleasant school days.

This being the last class that Prof. E. E. Richards taught while in Newark and during his public school career it was a great pleasure to have him as their guest.

The following members of the class were present at the reunion:

Mrs. Della Cochran Spregue, Mrs. Mary Elliott Newham, Misses Ida Henry, Clara McDonald, Bertie Faugher, Iva Morgan, Vida Shauk, Mabel Whitecamp, Minnie Hughes, Anna Kneuper, Annabel Seward, Josephine Seward, Minnie Braddock Myrtle Snider, Katharine Suter, Fern Hahn, Estella Gutridge, Messrs. Ralph Davis, Charles Welis, Harold Kemp, Guy Jones, Charles Graff, Albert Zartman, and Prof. E. E. Richards of Columbus.

NEWARK MEN

Fined for Stealing Rides on Freight Trains—Went to Zanesville to See Circus.

Zanesville, O., July 1.—Five train riders were gathered in by Detective Foreman while trying to make their way out of town. William Jackson, the first of the party to answer to the charge in police court, admitted his guilt and stated that he lived in Newark. He came down Wednesday to visit the show, but instead got mixed up in a game and lost all his money.

Later he pawned his railroad ticket for 25 cents, and after spending that amount, departed in a gondola for Newark in company with William Ray, W. J. Griffin, Lee Johnson and J. W. Watson. Each member of the party was fined $3 and costs. If the amount is not forthcoming at once they will be turned over to the workhouse.

ACCUSES

THE SPRINGERS OF FRAUDULENTLY OBTAINING $15,000.

A Suit in Chicago Courts in Which Many Newark People Will Be Interested.

Chicago, July 1.—The hearing of the demurrer to the bill brought against the Warren Springers by Mrs. Elizabeth Beach, through Attorney J. A. Coleman, was delayed until Thursday by an agreement of the attorneys in Judge Haney's court. The Springers were not in court and the hearing was postponed on account of another case being on trial. The demurrer to the bill, which accuses the Springers, with John Maginnis, brother of Mrs. Springer, of fraudulently obtaining $15,000 from Mrs. Beach on alleged worthless notes, is a general one and attacks the issues of the case as inequitable. Mrs. Warren Springer was formerly Miss Maggie Maginnis, of Newark, O.

HORSE THIEF

DROVE MR. RUTLEDGE'S MARE 200 MILES IN THREE DAYS.

Recorder Returned Home From Indiana With the Animal and Tells of His Experience.

It will be remembered that on the 18th of June, a well appearing, finely dressed young man called at the livery stable of Mr. J. W. Rutledge and representing himself as J. McDonald, a traveling representative of the Dayton Merchandise company, hired a horse and buggy for the day. Mr. Rutledge let him have a fine bay mare, one of the most valuable animals in the stable, and a buggy. The fellow failed to return at the time specified and after waiting a day for him to return Mr. Rutledge became satisfied that the stranger had stolen the outfit, and secured the services of ex-Marshall Joseph Griffith to hunt the man down. Printed descriptions of the thief and horse were sent out in every direction, and every effort was made by Mr. Griffith as well as Chief of Police Sheridan, and the police officers to get on the trail of the man.

The thief was finally traced to Columbus, where the track of him was lost until Wednesday, when Mr. Griffith received a telegram from Herbert Green, a livery man of Richmond, Ind., notifying him that he could locate the stolen animal. Mr. Rutledge left for Richmond Wednesday evening, and arrived there the same night at 9:55 o'clock. Immediately upon his arrival in Richmond Mr. Rutledge called on Mr. Green and after talking the matter over with him repaired to the hotel, where he remained until the next morning, when, accompanied by Mr. Green he went to Cambridge City over an interurban line, and from that place went to Milton over another interurban line.

At Milton Mr. Rutledge found his mare in the possession of a retired farmer named Nugent. As soon as Mr. Rutledge stated his errand to Mr. Nugent, that gentleman said that he was satisfied that the animal belonged to Mr. Rutledge. He said that he had purchased the mare of Charles Lackey, a horse dealer, who had purchased him from the thief, paying him therefor, $150 which Mr. Lackey will lose. Mr. Nugent led the way to the barn, where Mr. Rutledge immediately identified the mare as the one that had been stolen from him. Mr. Nugent did everything in his power to assist Mr. Rutledge, and even loaned him his old gray mare and wagon. Mr. Rutledge then took the mare to the barn of Charles Routh in Cambridge.

While in a carpeted room in a tenement house 75 germs settled on a three-inch saucer in five minutes, after sweeping their way were 2,700.

Mr. Routh is the man who purchased the horse that was stolen from Mr. Green of Richmond, Ind., and when he heard of the horse in the possession of Mr. Nugent he examined the animal and was at once convinced that it belonged to Mr. Rutledge, and a telegram was sent to Joseph Griffith that the animal had been located. Although Mr. Rutledge offered a reward of $25 for the recovery of the horse, the parties who succeeded in locating the animal are not inclined to accept any reward.

The officers are close on the trail of the thief. He was seen in Indianapolis on June 25, and the officers still think he is in that city. The thief had driven the mare from Newark to Richmond, a distance of about 200 miles in three days.

AL. G. FIELD

At the Head of a Company Which Proposes to Build a Light Plant at Pataskala.

Pataskala, O., July 1.—Al G. Field, the minstrel, of Columbus, is at the head of a company that proposes, with proper encouragement, to put an electric light plant in Pataskala that will not only furnish illumination for this place alone, but for Jersey, Summit Station, Etna, Kirkersville and Outville.

Such a plant would cost something like $200,000. A man will be here soon to feel the public pulse.

In the fifteen bird sweepstakes shoot the following was the score: S. Burrell, 14; Ed Browne, 13; Kiefer, 13; Ralls, 12; Dickerson, 12; Wentz, 11; F. Burrell, 12; Hill, 12; Sousslin, 11.

The fifteen bird shoot, 19 yards, between Kiefer and S. Burrell resulted in Kiefer winning by a score of 14 to 12.

The Gun club will hold a matinee shoot on their grounds all afternoon of Monday, July 4. All shooters are requested to attend. Everybody invited.

LECTURE

By Dr. Daniel Shepardson at Plymouth Church Was Enjoyed by a Large Audience.

A good audience Thursday night assembled at the Plymouth Congregational church and listened to the lecture, entitled "New York to California and Alaska in a Wheel Chair." Those who heard Dr. Daniel Shepardson deliver this lecture were more than pleased with the vivid descriptions of the scenery as well as the account of the people met and incidents of this long journey, taken under circumstances which were the best for observation.

Dr. Shepardson is an eloquent speaker and his lecture was one which reflected the learning and faculty for description with which he is endowed. The interesting lecture was illustrated with magnificent views and the listeners were literally carried with Dr. Shepardson over his 13,000 mile trip. All who attended feel well repaid, as the lecture was entertaining, instructive and altogether enjoyable.

There are two places in the world where a person can pass through the tropical, subtropical and temperate zones inside of an hour. Hawaii is one and Darjeeling, in northeastern India, is another. In both these places the trick is done by climbing up the high mountains.
